Introduction

Early Life Skills Textbook is prepared based on the reviewed Curriculum and Syllabus of 2023 provided by the Ministry of Education, Science and Technology. The textbook has also adapted some of the contents from the 2018 textbook which was prepared based on the 2016 Pre-primary Education Curriculum. This book aims to help the child develop the competence in relating with others through doing various activities in the following areas:

1. Valuing oneself and others;
2. Controlling emotions;
3. Self-dependence;
4. Collaboration; and
5. Solving problems.

Chapter Four

Collaborating with others

Let us collaborate.

Let us eat together.

Once upon a time, there were two goats. They were tied to each other with a rope.

They attempted to move in opposite directions. Therefore, they pulled one another strongly.

They failed to reach their patches of grasses. They could not feed on the grass.

After a long struggle, they agreed to move together.
They moved together in one direction. They ate the first goat's grass. Then, they moved together in the other direction. They also ate the second goat's grass. Their collaboration allowed them to be fed. They were both satisfied.

They did not pull each other ever again. They collaborated and loved each other. They lived in peace and harmony.

What have you learnt from the story?
Where do you collaborate with others?
Retell the story to your friends.
