Introduction

The Learn English textbook has been written based on the 2023 Primary Education Syllabus, Standard I–II, issued by the Ministry of Education, Science and Technology. It is a revised edition of the Reading Standard Two Pupil's Book, published in 2019, in accordance with the 2016 Basic Education Syllabus for Standard II, issued by the Ministry of Education, Science and Technology.

The book aims to enable the pupil to build listening, speaking and reading competencies by performing different learning activities focusing on the following areas: Using singular and plural forms of names of objects found in the environment; Expressing the days of the week and months of the year; Listening and responding to simple sentences and stories; Engaging in simple conversations; Engaging in telling grade appropriate stories; Narrating simple events; Manipulating phonemes to form new words; Pronouncing words with long vowel sounds; Reading words with three sound consonant clusters; Identifying and reciting similar and different sounds in words; Reading simple words with familiar suffixes; Reading long words; Reading grade-appropriate stories with appropriate pronunciation, tone and speed; Reading grade-appropriate stories and observing basic punctuation marks, and Reading grade-appropriate texts for comprehension.

Additional learning resources are available in the TIE e-Library at https://ol.tie.go.tz or ol.tie.go.tz.

the adapter into a socket. He switched on his laptop. Then, he wanted to use a mouse to play his game. He searched in his laptop bag. But he could not see it.

He called his daughter, Neema. Neema hurriedly walked into the sitting room. Mr Mouse was confused. He asked her, 'Where is my mouth?' Neema was surprised. She pointed at her father's mouth. Mr Mouse realised that he did not pronounce the word correctly. He repeated his question, 'Where is my mouse?' Neema was even more surprised. She said to her father, 'Do you mean your name, father?'

Mr Mouse said, 'I want to play a game'. Neema replied, 'Oh! Father, I cannot catch a mouse'. Mr Mouse realised that the word has two meanings. He then said, 'I mean the computer mouse'. Neema understood. She told her father that she had not seen his mouse. Mr Mouse remembered he had forgotten it at the office.

A Visit to Mikumi National Park

In December, our school organised a trip to Mikumi National Park. We started the journey at early in the morning. On our way, we passed by Kibaha and Morogoro towns. We sang and cheered all the way. When we reached Mikumi, wildlife officers welcomed us. Then, a tour guide came to us and introduced herself. She said that she would be guiding us through the park. We were very excited to be there.

FOR ONLINE READING ONLY

We started the first route to the northern side of the park. We saw a big buffalo lying beside the road. Mwajuma started screaming in fear. She cried out, "Oh! What a big animal that is! Take us back, please! It will kill us all!" The tour guide calmed her down. She told the driver to wait a few minutes. She whistled towards the buffalo. Then, the buffalo stood up and slowly walked away.

Along the trip, we saw many other animals. These include lions, giraffes and zebras. We were very happy to have that tour. When I got home, I told my family about the whole wildlife experience.

The magic tree

Once upon a time, there was a king. He lived in Mugamo village. There was a big tree near his house. The king liked to sit under that tree most of the time. He provided services to his people very slowly. He always pretended to be busy. But he spent most of his time eating and drinking. People who came to see him had to wait for many hours. In short, he was a lazy king.

People complained a lot about this bad behaviour. They wondered why the king behaved that way. They even started wishing for something bad to happen to him. One day, the king was sitting under the tree. Suddenly, he heard a strange voice. "You must be good to your people". He looked around in surprise and fear. He did not see anyone. Then, he heard the voice again, "You must be good to your people". He hurriedly stood up ready to leave. One of the branches of the tree turned into a big hand. The hand caught the king's necklace and held it tightly.

He screamed for help. The queen was the first to arrive. Then, other people followed. The king told them what had happened to him. But the people did not see the hand. Then, the king promised to be good to his people. He also promised to be a hard-working king. From that day, the king changed his behaviour completely. That tree has been called the magic tree ever since.
